GRAND JURY INDICTS MAJOR HELD IN BLAST CASE

BRIDGE HEARING ON MONDAY

BOARD STUDIES PROPOSALS OF TWO CONCERNS

Wide Difference Shown In Preliminary To Board Meeting

The separate proposals of two rival bridge companies seeking a franchise for construction of a giant span between Contra Costa and Marin counties were studied in detail yesterday at a perfunctory meeting of the supervisors of both counties in the court house in Martinez.

As explained later, the joint board session was called to acquaint the supervisors with plans previously submitted by the competing firms, the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, Incorporated, and the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Company.

Hearing Monday

These companies will formally present their proposals and explain the advantages claimed for their respective spans on Monday morning before the Contra Costa supervisors. The Marin county board has been invited to sit in at this conference, but official business, it was said, will prohibit their attendance.

Wide Difference

A cusory study of both bridge plans by the Contra Costa board has shown a wide difference in the two bridge proposals.

The Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, Inc., which is the original applicant for a franchise, would construct a span said to be shorter in distance, with fewer piers, having wider clearance for ships and with a wider roadway for traffic.

This bridge would connect Point San Pablo with McNear's Point.

The ferry company structure would utilize the present ferry pier on the Marin shore, extending from Point San Quentin to the pier on the Richmond side.

A thorough study of both bridge plans will be made by the Contra Costa and Marin supervisors before an award of the franchise is decided. This study may take several weeks.

Memorial Ballroom Goes Under New Management

The management of the Richmond Veterans' Memorial Ballroom has been taken over by H. J. Hennessy who will conduct social dances there every Saturday night. Tonight will mark the reopening of the hall. The public is cordially invited to attend with admission, check room, and dancing free. Music will be supplied by Weisgerber's Ballroom Entertainers who will play from 8:30 o'clock until midnight.

Hennessy is widely known in Richmond and has conducted dances in the city for the past 10 years.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION

Fortunate are they who enjoy the advantage of a musical education. It has a broadening and a harmonizing effect that nothing else supplies. For the most efficient vocal instruction, playing and education in harmony and history of music, see the Buyers Guide on the classified page.

CERTAIN-TEED MERGER AGAIN RUMORED NEAR

The words "Certain-teed" and "Congoleum" were freely bandied along the street in San Francisco yesterday in connection with the rise of Paraffine common which selling on a new basis, indulged in a 4 1-4 point upsurge. The rumor gave rise once more to the reported pending merger of the Certain-teed company with any one of a number of allied industries.

Officials yesterday as stoutly denied any company development to account for the sharp advance, as ever, and the largest bidders merely bought and kept their own counsel. One source professed information of a new pool operation in the stock, but the fact remained that the advance was made without definite news.

Stockholders of Paraffine during the day received letters announcing terms of the 20 per cent stock dividend, and provisions to buy or sell fractional shares resulting, on a basis. The letters had been held up pending sanction of the corporation department.

The talk with reference to an Eastern offer found most of the street leaning toward Congoleum, although a few observers recalled a recent statement of President Brown of Certain-teed in which he said:

"Some of these plans are sufficiently matured to permit divulging the names of the companies involved, but it is yet too early to do so because of other properties also being considered. A definite announcement of some of these plans may be made very shortly, although full completion may be extended over the balance of the year."

Flynn To Describe Training

Daily Story Of Manassa Mauler To Be Run For Two Weeks

Another treat for boxing fans! Jas. J. Flynn, the veteran boxing expert, who is directing the conditioning of Jack Dempsey, has been signed to sports staff of Universal Service.

Starting tomorrow, Flynn will contribute a daily story describing his experiences in preparing the former heavyweight champion for his coming fight with Jack Sharkey.

Flynn's own story will appear locally only in the Record-Herald.

No one knows Dempsey, the 1927 Dempsey, as Flynn knows him. Two men stay with Dempsey day and night in his secluded cottage back of Saratoga Lake—Jerry the Greek, his trainer, and Flynn.

Those who have watched the daily workouts have been struck by Dempsey's implicit obedience to every order from Flynn.

It is very evident that Dempsey has placed his case completely in Flynn's keeping. He is following Flynn's instructions as he used to follow those of Jack Kearns. Flynn is in complete charge of the camp, and of everyone in it.

If you want the low-down on Jack Dempsey, follow the Record-Herald for the next two weeks. Flynn will tell you.

Cattle Thieves Gave Mt. Diablo Its Name and Now Keep Up Its Reputation

Is Mount Diablo, noted meridian peak of Contra Costa county, again the rendezvous of a band of cattle thieves? .. ..

It is—and it is so reported to be by no less an authority than Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa County the mountain is suffering from a reversion to type, according to a number of pioneer residents of the county who recall a legend of the mountain which dates back to a dim and distant past.

According to that legend, which is one of four said to account for the unusual name of the mountain, a band of cattle thieves had its stronghold in the crags and caverns on the eastern slope of the peak overlooking what is today known as the Morgan Territory. From there this band is reputed to have conducted raids upon the cattle ranches of the upper San Joaquin valley.

After one particularly devastating raid a posse was organized, the band of robbers trailed into the eastern end of what is today is Morgan Territiry and up among the crags of the main peak.

"There," the legend states, "an advancing member of the posse noticed the slinking form of one of the thieves in one of the caves. A warning signal was given the other pursuers. At the same moment a series of ominous rumblings accompanied by thundrous roars began. An instant later great tongues of flame belched from the mouth of the cave.

"Seized with fear the members of the posse turned and fled to the mountain as they ran with shouts of 'Diablo, Diablo', meaning the mountain of the evil spirit and harbinger of devils."

Repetition of the legend, states the earliest history of Contra Costa county, led to the naming the peak Mount Diablo.

All of which may be correct, in the opinion of Sheriff Veale.

"But," he adds, "there's noth-

NAPA STORE IS PURCHASED BY ALBERT'S, INC.

Acquisition Of Largest Store In Napa Marks New Link In Chain

Adding another important unit to their chain of four stores, Albert's, Inc., owners of a department store here at Ninth street and Macdonald avenue, yesterday announced the purchase of the E. R. Gifford department store in Napa. The Gifford store is the largest in Napa county, and its acquisition will greatly increase the buying power of the Alberts chain of stores, Harry Albert, manager of the Richmond store, announced.

Jacob Albert, president of Albert's, Inc., pioneer San Rafael merchant, made the purchase of the Napa store, which has been in existence for 25 years. It employs 20 persons and has approximately the area of the Alberts store in Rehmond.

Harry Grossman, son-in-law of Jacob Albert, will be manager of the new store. At the present time he is connected with a large Oakland department store.

Albert's, Inc., have conducted a store in San Rafael for the past 34 years, building up the largest mercantile concern in that city. Seven years ago the firm came to Richmond and established the largest department store in this city at that time.

Statutory Offense Charged To Aged El Cerrito Man

Paul Smith, 451 or 251 Albemarle street, El Cerrito, is in the city jail at El Cerrito awaiting formal charges for alleged statutory offenses.

Smith was arrested by Police Chief Forrest Wright and Officer Frank Walsh of El Cerrito just as the aged man was parking his car in his basement garage. Upon arrest he handed over his garage keys to the arresting officers, saying: "Here, take them, I won't need 'em any more."

Officers searched the Smith home and declared that the basement, top floor and attic were crowded with "junk." In the basement, it is alleged, a number of old machines, motorcycles, bicycles and wheelbarrows were found.

At the jail, Smith expressed the belief that he was about to be hung. Assured that he wouldn't be, he then invited City Jailor Arthur H. Byrd to attend his shooting. Told that he wouldn't be shot, he asked for paper and pencil to write to his brother in Los Angeles, telling him that he, Smith, was to go on his last "joy ride."

It is believed that formal charges will be filed against the aged man this morning. Whether he will appear before Justice of the Peace A. H. MacKinnon of El Cerrito or Justice of the Peace John Roth in this city is not known.

CONCORD FIELD FATE IN DOUBT

CONCORD, July 8.—Considerable concern is felt here over the fate of the local air mail field when the government relinquishes control, if it intends to do so. The postoffice department's lease on the field is renewable annually. June 1 was the renewal date. The government has until September 1 to exercise it rights to the field.

Whether it will be taken over by the Boeing company, which has contracted to carry the mail between Chicago and San Francisco; or whether it will be turned over to the department of commerce by the postoffice department, or whether it will revert to its original status of a grain field are the questions considered here.

In the opinion of Dr. L. L. Martin, president of the Concord Chamber of Commerce, the safety of the air mail pilots should dictate the use of the local air field, instead of the San Francisco airport, which the Boeing company is planning to use.

CIVILIZATION?

That was a pathetic picture, recently, of the old woman on a New York sidewalk, with her few meager household articles, dispossessed for non-payment of rent.

Fifty years ago this same woman sang before an Emperor, and received the plaudits of thousands.

Now that she is old, her golden voice gone; there is no more applause; there are no more friends; there is not even a home left.

Yet this is what we call "civilization."

That word will be a grisly jest until we learn to extend a helping hand to those no longer able to help themselves.

What it's all about
By PAUL ALLEN

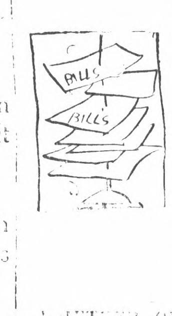

The air has been filled with American planes this year. Wonder what Europe thinks about it. Uncle Sam has built up a reputation of being far behind in this branch of activity, and the stunts his birdmen have been pulling must be causing quite a shock. Europe realizes, just as America does, that the airplane has moved the countries of the world very close together. New York is nearer to Paris now than Berlin was seventy-five years ago. When air [illegible] can go bombs can be dropped, [illegible] can be killed.

In the United States we have been talking about [illegible] planes dropping death on us. Over in Europe they're probably talking about the possibility of American planes dropping death on them. None but American aviators have proved that skipping across the ocean is possible. And the trip Over There from Over Here [illegible] easier than the reverse.

Europe is heading toward war, in the opinion of such an observant statesman as Senator Borah. There seems to be plenty of evidence to bear out his prediction. What will happen, then, to the average citizen is not hard to guess. He will be herded into the armies, compelled to endure the terrors of death, disease and [illegible]. In the end the survivors must buckle down and pay for the pleasure that has been theirs.

If governments actually had to pay for their own wars they'd be less ready to [illegible] [illegible] the United States [illegible] [illegible] enforcing prohibition.

WHETHER ONE GYPPING IS going to cure us of our open-handed policy is questionable. At present we are sending good money after bad, in loans to cities and commercial enterprises as well as to governments in foreign lands. If the foreign boys are honest the principal may be returned some day. If they're not, and we want to be paid we might have to send airplanes, air bombs, soldiers, guns and tanks to back up our bill collectors. In the end it will have been found just as cheap to give the money away.

IF PEOPLE COULD BE MADE to see the dishonesty behind war propaganda they'd refuse to fight. But war makers have the upper hand. They rouse the patriotic ardor. They plunge nations into battle before there is time to think. They they invent stories of horrible atrocities and inflame the passions. What it's all about nobody who fights ever really knows. Every one thinks he's right and his enemies are wrong. So soldiers kill and get killed, and so it will be until the people learn the truth and refuse to be stampeded into death.

THE UNITED STATES HAS been gypped on this war debt business. Nobody's ready to admit it yet. But no nation except England has made even a pretense of paying up. Give credit to John Bull for keeping his credit good. He realizes that some day it will be necessary to ask for another loan and he wants to be sure he can get it without explaining his failure to return previous borrowings.

How To Earn Money at Home
By Sara Spence

It is perfectly fine to read of so many who have [illegible] advice given in this column and have come out triumphant. It is so nice to have a little extra money all one's own. I feel sorry for the woman who can't earn money, that, just in a whisper, I [illegible] [illegible] that I do not think there are many such. Women are clever, and nature has put in their fingers a cunning that enables them to do pretty much anything they want to do.

Do you believe in luck in business? I make 500 filled cookies, acting on your suggestion. And I sold them at 10 cents each. Shall I open a bakery?
HAPPY

By no means. Simply keep on along the same lines. A "filled" cookie has a surprise inside. Have you thought of varying your cookies with seasonable fruit [illegible] keep the appetite whetted?

I want to start a shop of some kind. What do you advise on little money?
RETAIL

I would start a [illegible] gown shop. Buy dresses that have been laid aside by rich people. Clean and mend them and offer them to ladies who want handsome things but can't quite afford them.

Where can I get manuscript to copy?

Write to all the writers in your vicinity. Authors want to find a typist who lives in the neighborhood. Then do your very best. Take back the copy in faultless [illegible] if necessary make corrections calling the authors attention [illegible].

VIGOROUS HEALTH

—o—

The other day a [illegible] man remarked to me that one should not "give up" to his disease but should fight them so long as he has any strength with which to fight.

His conception of disease is the popular one. It is a devouring monster that is hurting the body. Of all this. Disease is the process something attacks the body. Some [illegible] entity moves in and begins to devastate and lay waste. [illegible] something must be fought. It must be struggled against.

Now, the truth is the opposite. Disease is a curative process, the [illegible] cure. The strength of the patient is the strength of the disease. Every bit of the fight against the disease is a fight against the body. Every time a symptom is subdued or suppressed the patient is made much worse.

Since the strength of the disease is the strength of the patient, and the disease is a curative process, the more the patient conserves his energies the more certain he is to recover. The less energy he expends, [illegible] the more energy may be used in the disease.

There is no such thing as giving up to disease. One may thwart its curative work or one may co-operate with it, but there is nothing to give up to. If there is a desire to vomit one should surely not fight against this. If there is diarrhoea one should not fight against it. If there is coughing, [illegible] check it is to leave in the lung or air passages the thing that the cough was trying to expel. To fight against these things is to injure and perhaps kill yourself.

What is erroneously called giving up to disease is simply giving the process a free field for its work of elimination, repair and cure. When nature cuts off the appetite and suspends the process of digestion she is not "giving up". She is merely preparing for a real work. She is conserving energy through one channel to use in another. We do well to take nature's hint and conserve our energies all we can.

Try To Overcome Lazy Habits If You Want Pep, Beauty

—o—

It's those little lazy habits of living, girls, that make such roads upon your health and beauty. Little things, so trivial you hardly notice them, and yet they are devastating in their reactions.

This busy, hurried world is in too much of a hurry to walk anywhere these days. Taxis and autos and subways are too near at hand. Think how much better it is for you to walk a mile than ride in some stuffy conveyance. We lead too sedentary a life for real vigor, and we need to walk as much as we can, whenever we can and as often as we can. Start fifteen minutes earlier, and walk to work. It puts pep into your day.

Too lazy to brush your hair for fifty strokes each night. It might take five minutes. Better brush at 20 than to be bald at 50. A wig or transformation can never take place of your own healthy hair.

It takes only a minute to brush your teeth after each meal, and yet you say, "I haven't time." Better to sit in a dentist's chair for long hours, rectifying the silly mistake, because you failed to remove the particles of decaying food from the crevices between your teeth. Better one minute now than one hour six months later.

All these little things take but a few minutes at the time, but they can only be rectified by long hours of hard work later on.

Alice: In summer time light than heavy ones. I would suggest a glass of orange juice and a couple of thin slices of dry graham cream toast. Instead of orange juice, you might substitute any of the fresh fruits in season. They all make excellent breakfast fare.

Mrs. Thomas: Sun baths are excellent for you. However, you must be sure not to overdo it at first. You may suffer painful effects from sunburn. Begin with a five-minute sun bath. Increase the time gradually so that your skin becomes accustomed to the sun's rays. Remember that a misty sun even on a clouded day on the water with a brisk breeze blowing will give you windburn, not sunburn.

Miss F. J. An excellent exercise for warming up after a brisk swim when the air is cold is this one: Stand with your feet apart. Start with your hands stretched above your head. Without bending your knees, bend at the waist and touch the tips of your fingers to the sand. From this position, fling your arms sideways and raise body. Bending body, touch tips of fingers to sand over head. Alternate the arms action with the bending count. Do this ten times and rest, then fifteen times and rest. When your muscles are hardened to this exercise you can do it fifty to one hundred times without stopping. But don't try this many at first.

WHY—OH, WHY!

This thing I can't get through my head—
It always makes it ache:
Why should they make flour into bread.

DEMPSEY TAKES UP WORK AGAIN AFTER LAY-OFF

SARATOGA SPRINGS, July 8.—Jack Dempsey returned to the more tingling wars this afternoon, after a 24 hour lay off, and gave the non paying customers plenty of thrills.

Three daring sparring partners, who were the first to work with the ex-champion, slapped him with plenty of vim and vigor, while Dempsey contented himself, mainly with trying to prance out of the way of their stabbing lefts and hooking rights.

One of them, Tillie (Kid) Herman who was Dempsey's mate last year, and who came back to the camp for his first time this afternoon, enthused the customers quite a bit by belting Jack with a vast variety of punches, all of which carried plenty of steam.

And then along came Italian Jack Herman, a heavyweight, who also was a new comer. By the time Italian Jack arrived Manassa Jack was rather annoyed by the les majestie which had been committed by the first trio-Saxon, Shade and Tillie, and, furthermore, he was just about warmed up to his job.

So he closed in after Italian Jack and about two minutes later they had to lift Italian Jack out of the ring and assist him to a restoration spot.

Pietro Corri, the Austrian heavyweight, who had been treated rather gently by Dempsey in other workouts, and who took to telling the boys that he was quite good, and saying it in such a way as to reflect upon the socking qualities of the ex-champion, then romped into the ring, about one minute later he was lifted out of it and Marty Burke finished out the round, breathing deep sighs of relief when it was over.

They tossed a 230 pound gent from Utica named Leon Labriola in. Dempsey and Leon figured that his job was to try to assassinate Dempsey at the earliest moment. He swung ponderous punches with everything he had in those punches. Dempsey ducked or sidestepped the vast bulk of them and countered heavily with right and left hand smashes to the body.

"Oh-Ho," sighed Leon, when the bell ended his first meeting with the punching man from Utah. The reason Leon would say no more was because he simply could not.

Allentown Joe Gans finished up the day with a fast workout, during which Gans was very careful to keep as far out of range of Dempsey's left hook as was humanly possible.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—"Selling liquor is not the worst crime in the world, nor is the drinking of it either," declared Judge Nattle in police court today, freeing on probation Mrs. Jane O. McMillen, a 54-year old widow, who confessed to dispensing liquor to support her son and daughter, both of whom are ill.

The case was the first to be brought into court by the newly formed "Snoopers" association, a young man belonging to that body called upon Mrs. McMillen at her apartment and prevailed upon her to give him a drink of whiskey, representing himself as a fraternity brother of her son. After getting the drink, he returned with prohibition officers and she was arrested.

SANNIES 1927 CHAMPIONS OF CITY LOOP

Play In Annual City Tennis Tournament To Start Monday, August 1

MEN'S SINGLES SCHEDULED FOR OPENING PLAY

Play in the annual city tennis tournament will commence Monday, August 1. This date was set by the Richmond Tennis club, sponsor of the championships, at a meeting last night at the city hall.

Opening play in the event will include men's singles, with women's singles following several weeks later. Contestants will compete for the beautiful trophies offered by Supervisor Zeb Knot, for winners in each event.

Fish Favored To Win

L. S. Fish, winner over A. K. Herman in the Standard Oil championships several weeks ago, is favored to win the men's singles. Fish captured the single's championship last year after a hard battle with Herman and is expected to repeat. The latter is always dangerous, however, and might surprise with a victory over his old rival.

Other players that might give both Fish and Herman

Another player that might give both Fish and Herman a tussle for the title is Nebo Chasseur, University of California net star, who is also entered in the event. Chasseur, along with Fish and Herman, will play against the strong Santa Cruz Tennis club players here tomorrow.

Santa Cruz Here

The latter are coming here prepared to avenge their crushing defeat of several months ago at Santa Cruz, at which time the local netmen were victorious in seven of the nine matches. Several of the Santa Cruz team's strongest players were not present for the initial tilt, however, and the tables might be turned in the return matches tomorrow.

The matches will be played on the city hall courts, starting at about 9 o'clock. No admission will be charged and the tennis public is invited to be on hand to witness the contests.

Award Radio Set

Announcement was made last night that the radio set to be given by the Richmond Tennis club will be awarded at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, July 15, in front of Carl Richard's Radio store, across the street from the California Theatre.

'BAN' JOHNSON QUITS AS HEAD OF BIG LEAGUE

NEW YORK, July 8.— Byron Bancroft Johnson, co-founder of the American Baseball League, President since its establishment in 1901, and stormy petrel of big time baseball, literally fought his way out of the game when he resigned his presidency today after one of the stormiest baseball meetings in the history of the sport.

Although Johnson came here from Chicago after the sudden calling of the meeting looking very bad physically, he refused to attend the conference. Johnson barricaded his door and refused entrance to Clark Griffith, of Washington, Col. Jacob Ruppert of New York, and Robert Quinn, of Boston, when the three club owners were named as a committee to call on the president

Vice president Schwartz was at last chosen as a peace messanger. Johnson admited Schwartz to his room and a little later Schwartz returned to the meting attended by most of the league magnates, and brought Col. Ruppert back to Johnson's room.

It was not until then that the old warrior surrendered and tendered his resignation. The president issued a formal statement which read:

"To the members of the American League:

"After thirty four years of service as your president, secretary and treasurer (offices he held with the old Western League included) I tender my resignation, such resignation to take effect on November 1 or earlier should I so decide. My compensation shall end immediately on my retirement."

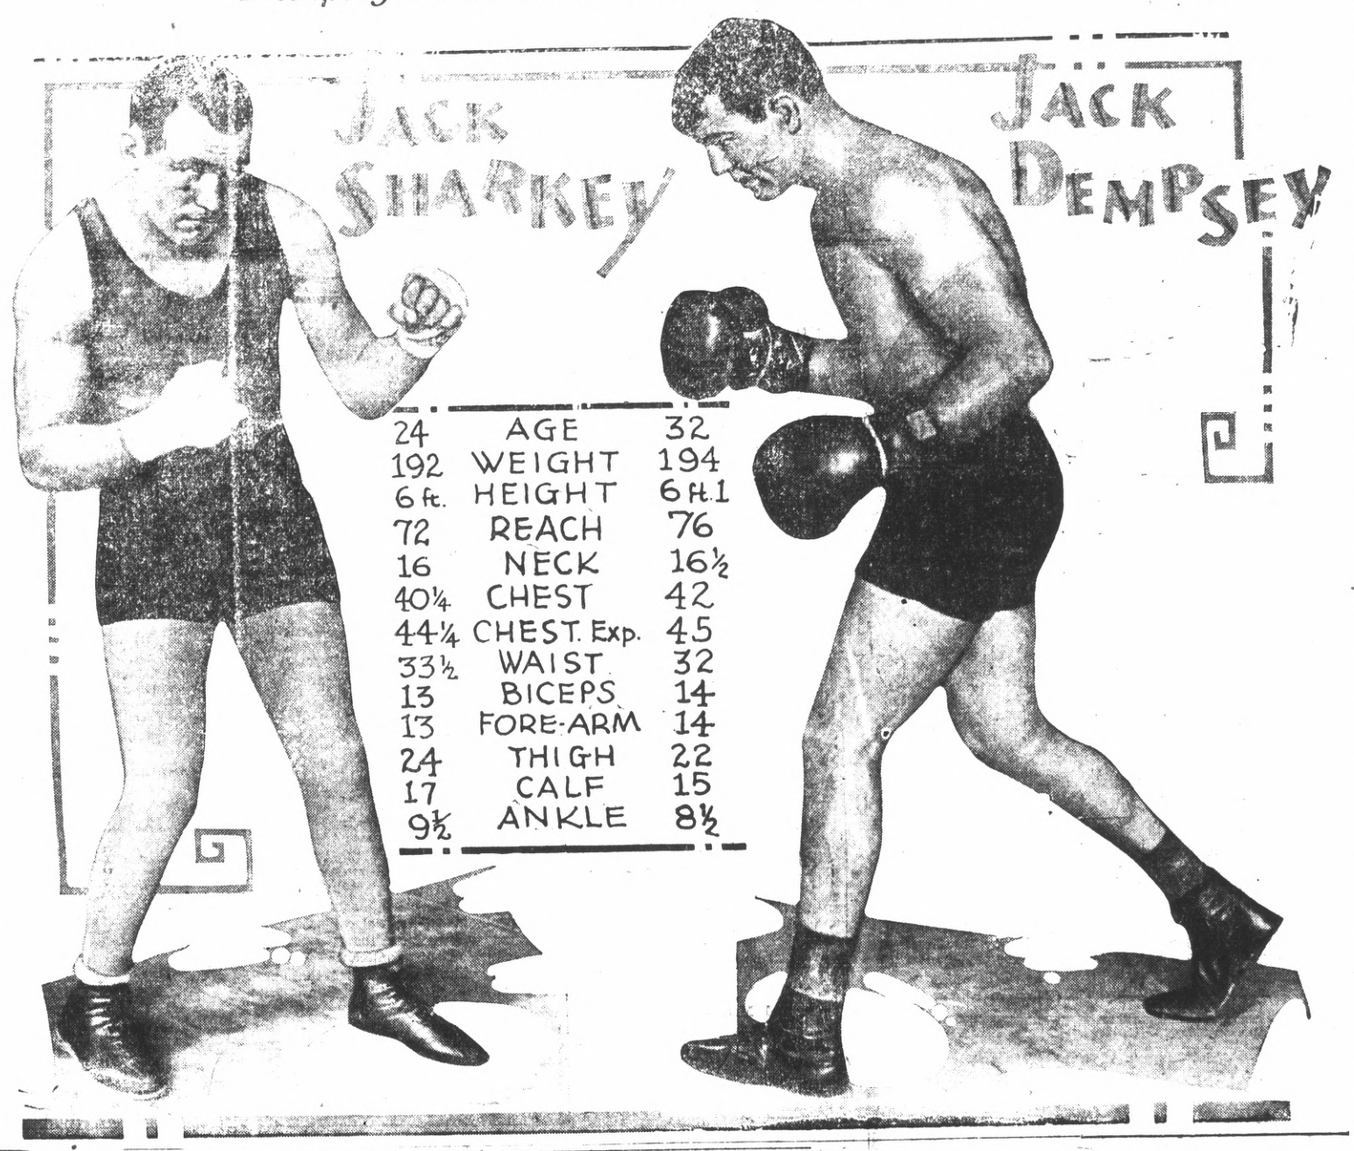

The league officials upon receipt of Johnson's resignation issued a statement which said:

"The American league owners with great regret received the resignation after thirty four years of distinguished service of Ban B. Johnson. We regret that our acceptance has been made necessary by the burden of responsibility placed upon him, incidental to and connected with the office. In accepting his resignation the American League extends all of its good will and good wishes to Mr. Johnson."

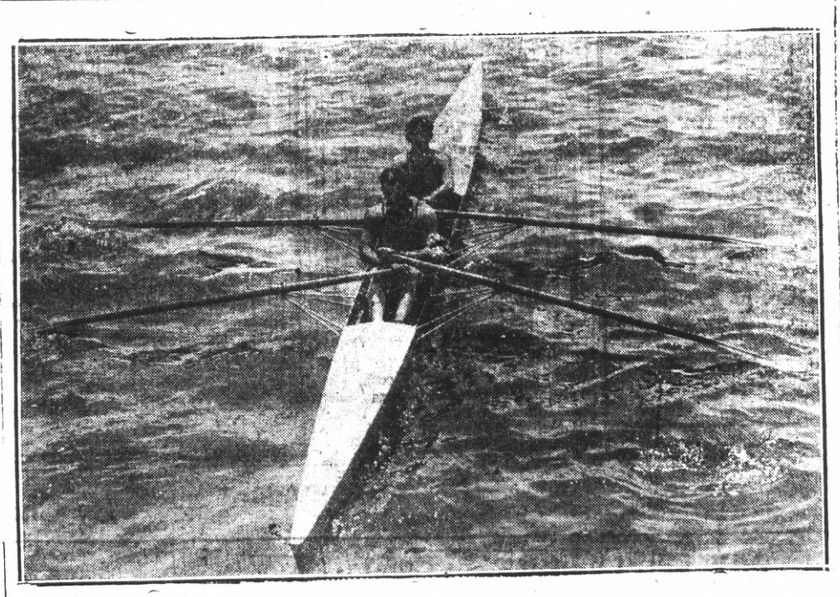

With his colors flying proudly till the last, Johnson himself requested that he receive no salary after November lalthough he has a contract of $40,000 a year running until 1935.

The league members, out of deference for their old chief, moved not to choos a sucessor and it was announced that he will be selected until after Johnson formally leaves office.

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

DEMPSEY IS HOLDING OUT

Keep one thing in mind when you read of the work Jack Dempsey is doing at Tom Luther's camp at Saratoga.

That is that William Harrison Dempsey's real training is being done in private, or will be done in private.

Dempsey, in his matinee workouts, will be under wraps. He'll knock over the bums in the afternoon, but his intensive training will be reserved for the morning or late in the afternoon, far from prying eyes.

The intensive training Dempsey contemplates, or rather which Leo P. Flynn contemplates, is the doling out of body punishment. Dempsey and Flynn are agreed that if Sharkey is to be beaten he will be beaten in the stomach. In the private sessions Dempsey will plunge forward with both hands shooting projectiles at the stomach and mid-sections of his sparring partners.

Leo P. Flynn had quite a mental wrassle with himself before he hit on the novel idea of reinforcing the stomachs of those sparring partners. The buttressing of the stomachs will be accomplished by the use of a chest protector similar to the chest protectors used by baseball catchers. The sparring mates will don these abdominal mattresses and thus protected will let Dempsey slug away till the cows come home.

Dempsey will not attempt to protect himself in these private prep parties.

The sparring partners will be instructed to keep whaling him with left hands in order to accustom him to the educated left hand which Jack Sharkey will poke into his features on the night of July 21. By the time of the fight Dempsey will be thoroughly familiar with left hands landing on the bridge of his trick nose, but Leo P. Flynn hopes to have him so thoroughly schooled that Dempsey will automatically pump home shots to Sharkey's dinner as the lefts land.

FLYNN IS IN THERE TRYING

There seems to be a very well defined feeling that Leo P. Flynn will accomplish more with Dempsey than any one else possibly could.

Flynn has wasted little time in getting Dempsey down to an intelligent program.

He has impressed on Dempsey the necessity of shortening his punches, and he has tossed into the discard the foolish notion that Dempsey must work himself to death in order to have a Chinaman's chance against the Boston heavy.

Flynn is one trainer who knows that Dempsey's stock of fighting materials and physical endurance is not what it used to be. Leo, therefore, is attempting to bring Dempsey up to the July 21 date without sacrificing any of his strength. Jack will not leave his fight in the gymnasium this time.

Flynn shows excellent judgment in directing Dempsey to perfect a body attack and he shows equally keen judgment in accustoming the big fellow to plenty of left hands. The addition of Jack Renault to Dempsey's staff of sparring partners is another move which originated with Flynn.

The caginess of Leo P. Flynn is not confined to snooker pool and golf. He is a cagey trainer and he is working as he never worked before to bring home a winner.

Phil Jones' Standard Pacific Sannies are the 1927 champions of the Richmond City League. They annexed this honor when they administered a 13 to 6 drubbing to the Pullman nine yesterday afternoon at the First street ball park.

Paul Hueston, Pullman manager, sent his ace pitcher, Lefty Delucchi, to the mound in an effort to stop the leading Sannies, but the latter pasted the southpaw's offerings to every corner of the lot.

The Sannies cinched the contest in the second inning when they got to Delucchi for eight runs.

Akins, after pitching good ball for five innings, eased up in the closing cantos and the losers tallied five times.

Every member of the Sannie team got at least one hit with the exception of Moss, catcher. Greathouse, Surgin and Lane, the Sannies' "Murderers' Row", each connected for three hits. Roy Bliss hit the ball hard for the losers.

Staged under the direction of W. L. (Doc) Seawright, city recreation director, the season was one of the most successful in the history of the league. The Sannies, Pullman and the Ben Maliks staged a great three-cornered fight from the opening game and the Sannies had to play at top speed to annex the championship.

HEART TROUBLE Marvelously Relieved

While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to Heart Trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest with the slightest comfort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took her first package of the Fong Wan Herbs. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest after many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From that city she has sent the following testimonal to the Fong Wan Herb Co.:

OWES HER LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS

Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herb Co.:

I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co., and to the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I, not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO QUITS

John T. Lambert

RAPID CITY, S. D. July 8.—James R. Sheffield resigned American Ambassador to Mexico and reported to President Coolidge an alleged new and serious crisis which threatens the tremendous American investments that are there.

The nature of the new impending crisis, Sheffield refused to reveal publicly.

"It can not come from me," he said. "It must come only from the state department."

He was asked if the "New crisis" was the seizure by the Standard Oil Company and others now in the Mexican courts, of property their drilling for oil on the land they acquired previous to the adoption of the Mexican Constitution of 1917.

"No, it is separate from that," he said.

It was recalled to Sheffield that President Coolidge, in his New York speech, declared he had received the private assurances of ambassador Tilez that Mexico would refrain from confiscation of land and that President Calles had later made warm approval of the President's speech.

"Are those assurances being violated" Sheffield was asked. He paused for a full minute and finally replied, "I must decline to answer that question."

Sheffield said that out of a total of a billion three hundred million of American money invested in Mexico, $380,000,000 is in oil and a larger amount in agricultural land.

"Are the oil and land investments jeopardized by Mexico's actions" Sheffield was asked.

"They are," he replied.

Sheffield met the newspaper correspondents at the summer executive offices here after two days of conference with President Coolidge. He was exceedingly serious. Whether he has succeeded in impressing President Coolidge with his evident alarm at "the new crisis" was not stated.

President Coolidge accepted Sheffield's resignation. Until a successor is named, Charge d'affaires in Mexico will be in charge of H. A. Scheffield, of the American Embassy.

It was said in behalf of President Coolidge that no reports of alarming conditions in Mexico have been received by him since he left Washington.

Sheffield denied the reports that he had been recalled. 'My resignation has nothing to do with my work; health or lack of support and loyalty by the administration" he said.

"President Coolidge has been extremely loyal in his support of me. When I went to Paul Smith's last summer, I talked over with President Coolidge the matter of my being relieved. He asked me asked me to return and remain through the winter but with the understanding that I would terminate my post this spring.
